

Comunicarte Radio production of programs in the Paramos Region.

At a recent monitoring visit to Colombia between August 10 and 22, PWRDF visited offices of Comunicarte, met the Comunicarte team in Bogota, for a presentation on the scope of their work, led by ED Alma Montoya, alongside WACC's Lorenzo Vargas, Carolina coordinator of Paramos projects and Edwin and Danny from the Amazonas program.

We also travelled into the Paramos region, visited Voces del Ruiz Community radio station in Murillo, Tolima. There, we spoke with local community members, including children who produce some of the content used in Comunicarte communications; we learned about the key role community radio plays in environmental awareness and sensitization, as well as disaster awareness, and visited the Parque Nevado del Ruiz to see the Paramo Nevado del Ruiz and learn about the importance of it to the local ecosystem, and the importance of the Frailejon plant.

Radio Magazine #23

Theme: FESTIVALS WITH NATURE

October 2, 2024

In this broadcast we will talk about different community cultural celebrations and festivals made possible with the joint work of the inhabitants of different municipalities. We will learn more about the Community Communication Workshop, Paramos for Life, as well as information on caring of our ecosystems. The "Paramuno" recipe book continues to expand with a new recipe with corn "corn drones", we recommend a documentary about our water sources, and we continue to report on COP 16 on biodiversity, in Cali Colombia.

Theme: ENVIRONMENTAL CINEMA

September 27, 2024

Cinema with an environmental focus raises awareness among audiences about ecological problems, helping to make visible the impacts of climate change and environmental degradation. In addition, it promotes reflection and change in behaviour towards more sustainable and environmentally friendly practices. That is why today, we dedicate a space to it in this radio magazine, to highlight its relevance, and to invite it to become one of the favorite formats. We are promoting the various Film Festival of Suma Paz/ Adding, as well as many other festival across the region.
